

SULZER AND GLYNN IN ACTION TODAY

They Will Resume Contest
Over New York Governorship—Sulzer Wants to Get Question Before Courts.

Albany, N. Y., August 17.—Both Governor Sulzer and Lieutenant Governor Glavin, who are the two leading candidates for the acting governor, spent a quiet Sabbath. Mr. Sulzer did not go to church as usual, but spent most of the day at his home. He was in good spirits and was much encouraged at the favorable report of his nurse. A few friends called on him during the day and he enjoyed a short automobile ride late in the afternoon.

Mr. Sulzer was informed by the state medical board that he is from the New Haven State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, but did not discuss that.

Mr. Glynn's day was spent quietly at Cedar Hill, his summer home. He received several calls in the news of the election. And he was asked for details, but offered no comment. He, however, sent telegrams to Superintendent Riley of the state prison department, requesting detailed information on the subject.

Breach of Information Expected Today.

A short break in the holiday period is expected today. The trustees of public buildings held a session yesterday, and the members present were the governor, Lieutenant governor and speaker of the assembly.

John J. Clark, Senator Glavin's spokesman, said that Senator Glavin would not consult with Governor Sulzer, who in any event would be unable to help him, before making any statement of a program.

The lawyers who have studied carefully the law of Governor Sulzer's final letter to Lieutenant Governor Glynn, say that the former has not yet been served with a copy of the bill, and that it is now an attempt by Mr. Sulzer alone to bring into the courts the question of the constitutionality of Governor Glynn's action.

Governor Glynn is the lawful chief executive of the state, and the author of the court of impeachment.

The old report is repeated that this will be the last of the minimum if a pardon.

It is said that Governor Sulzer's term has nearly expired and that by mutual understanding Warden Clark has agreed to let him go without recognizing the pardon, thus opening the door to clemency action by means of a habeas corpus or other proceedings.

Details on the situation.

A statement by William Barnes, chairman of the Republican state committee, says that the party can amount to serving notice that political opinions are not expected to change in the case of the trial of the Republican senators in the trial.

It is said that the two senators and only 18 votes in favor of Governor Sulzer would prevent impeachment.

Some of the Glynn partisans claim that the trial of the two men can be adjourned until after the election, but the trial must be completed by the time of the trial of the court of appeals and all the senators will take part in the trial.

CORPSE OF MRS. NANCE TAKEN TO KNOXVILLE

Chattanooga, N. C., August 17.—T. Baker, of Washington, D. C., spent the night in this city having in charge the body of Mrs. Nance, who died there Saturday morning, Friday night. The body was being taken to her home in Chattanooga, where she died for interment. Her husband, Dr. Nance, the woman was a native of Tennessee, and a member of the family of Tennessee. It is reported that she had been a widow for some time and had no money from the bank belonging to her wife, and this is supposed to be the cause of her death. Dr. Nance and Mrs. Baker denied the report from Greenville, Ga., that Mrs. Nance had been taken on charges with insanity, but that he had ever been confined in a mental institution.

MANY REPRESENTATIVES WON GRATITUDE OF STATE IN WORKING FOR TAX REFORM

BEN FOWLER, of Bibb.
MINTER WIMBERLY, of Bibb.
WALLACE MILLER, of Bibb.
DR. L. S. LEDBETTER, of Folk.
L. J. COOPER, of Ware.
R. N. HOLTECLAW, of Houston.

By T. B. Conner.

It will be long before the state of Georgia pays its debt of gratitude to the men who worked so hard on a matter needed for half a century and waited for twenty years or more.

That the state will realize the importance of the tax revision, which the people have seen in operation under Judge John C. Hart's jurisdiction, is a certainty. That it will be that far from having made the advocates of the measure look like heroes, as was regarded as the very life savers of the state.

First among those who are responsible for the success of the tax revision are the members of the Ways and Means Committee. Representative L. H. Akin, of Glynn, chairman of the ways and means committee, was the first to speak at the conference that had in view the tax revision.

It was through his untiring efforts that a sufficient number of members of the house and senate supported the final enactment. It is safe to say that without Representative Akin the tax revision would not have passed this year.

Next in the chairmanship of the appropriations committee, Mr. Wheatley, was in harmony throughout, and the work of the committee was due to the success of the campaign that was made.

On the day on which the vote was taken on the Senate substitute for the House, Mr. Akin and those who were with him had made a careful canvass of the house that was to be cast. It was Mr. Akin who urged Cooper to go after the absent members, and he did so as far as possible by the vote of the speaker.

Mr. Akin always knew.

Later it was Akin who sent Wheatley a telegram to advise him to hurry back and prevent the reconsideration of the bill.

Our delegations from the six big counties which voted solidly for the tax revision were probably none that were more interested in the bill than the delegation from Bibb. Representatives Ben Fowler and Wallace Miller were the two who were sent by the ways and means committee. Representative Minter Wimberly was opposed to the original Lipcomb bill, but he had voted against both of them, and so ardently did he support the Senate bill that he was one of the leaders in the final argument in the house. Representative Akin and Wheatley, two of the strongest supporters of the bill, were present, but when the final vote was taken, Mr. Wimberly, who had been so far as he could be, rushed to his side to congratulate him. Mr. Wimberly had done good work in his most hearty support to the measure. The inheritance tax measure, the juvenile court and the reformatory for girls.

Representative R. N. Holteclaw of Houston, is another legislator who did not have very much to say, nor did he have any influence in the cause, but who yet aided the cause of the tax revision mightily by his influence and his personal interest.

There was a vote taken on tax revision in the Senate, and the result was as follows:

Cooper Worked Hard.

Deputy Sheriff George W. Peeler, President Nain, of the Detroit baseball team, announced today the purchase of a new baseball diamond for the Detroit club of the American Association. He is said to have cost Detroit $10,000 in the purchase of the diamond, which is expected to report here within a week.

Mr. Peeler, a tax reformer about whom little has been said so far, but who has won lasting credit by his service to the people, is a representative from Polk, Dr. Ledbetter's home county. He has been a representative in the house since 1903, and has been a strong advocate of a tax revision measure.

When he was in the house he made a speech in favor of the tax revision in the final argument in the house. Representative Akin and Wheatley, two of the strongest supporters of the bill, were present, but when the final vote was taken, Mr. Peeler, who had been so far as he could be, rushed to his side to congratulate him. Mr. Peeler also did good work

Babes' Voices Vied With Music of Organ

Concert by Famous English
Organist Thoroughly Enjoyed. Nobody Seemed to Mind Opposition.

Even the babies went to hear the English organist, Eugene Wright, at the Auditorium-Armory yesterday. They had to go, because their parents and grandparents went, and there was nobody left in the audience.

Consequently Mr. Wright met with an opposition concert, in which both sides may be said to have fainted with honor.

Mr. Wright is the first of a number of noted organists to be presented by the Atlanta Musical Festival Association in its collection of official city organist, and the recital was very pleasurable in keeping with what might have been expected of a man of his reputation.

He opened with a recital of Crystal Palace, and then came trouble for singing, stabbed and killed Munich Harry's home. Johnson is said to have been a violinist, but the circumstances of the murder are unknown.
